The Workflow

A defined sequence of revisions and approvals that keeps expectations clear from the first look to final delivery, so nothing gets lost, delayed, or misunderstood along the way.

"Magic happens here"

1. Look Development

We grade 3–5 key stills to lock in the overall mood and palette before touching a single frame of timeline.

APPROVAL
STAGE

2. The First Pass

Global exposure balancing and the approved primary look applied across the full timeline.

WIP 1

3. The Fine Grade

Detail isolation, object tracking, and shot-to-shot continuity fixes. This is where footage starts looking intentional.

WIP 2

4. Final Polish & Mastering

Last-mile tweaks, quality control, and render-out to every delivery format you need: Rec.709, web, and broadcast masters.

FINAL

Typical turnaround per stage: 2–3 business days

Terms of Services

Our standard service terms covering payment, cancellation, revisions, and file ownership are laid out plainly so there are no surprises once a project is underway. Project-specific contracts may adjust individual terms by agreement.

1. Payment Terms

A 50% deposit is required to confirm and schedule the project. The remaining balance is invoiced on delivery and due within 15 or 30 days, depending on the agreement signed.

2. Kill Fee

The initial deposit is non-refundable once work has begun. If a project is canceled after the start date, this covers the prep time, scheduling, and calendar hold already committed on our end.

3. Revisions

Every package includes two full rounds of global revisions. Additional rounds beyond that are billed at $1,500 per round and scheduled based on current availability.

4. Media Storage

Project media is retained on our drives for 30 days after final delivery for support purposes. Clients are responsible for archiving their own footage and project files beyond that window.

"We don't do monkey business"

Project File & Intellectual Property

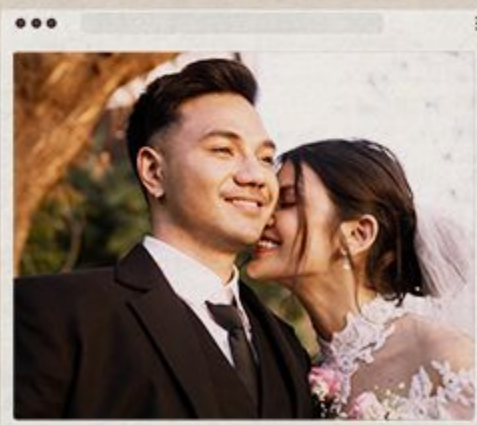

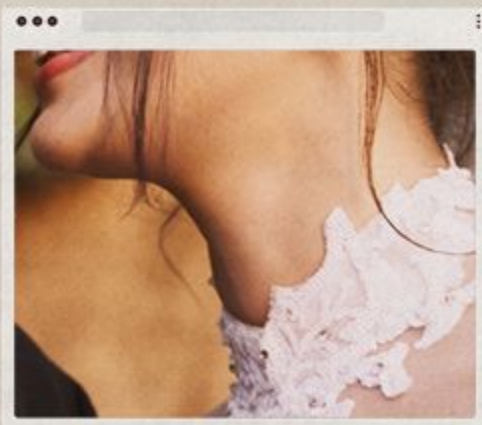

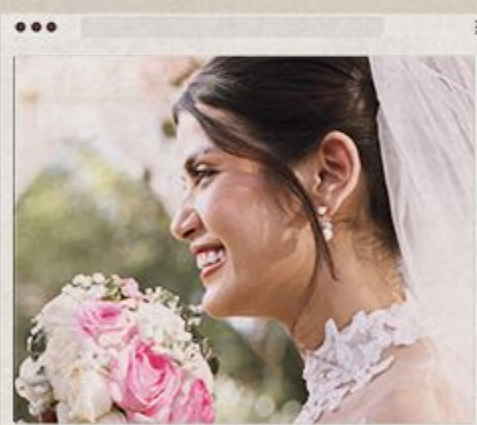

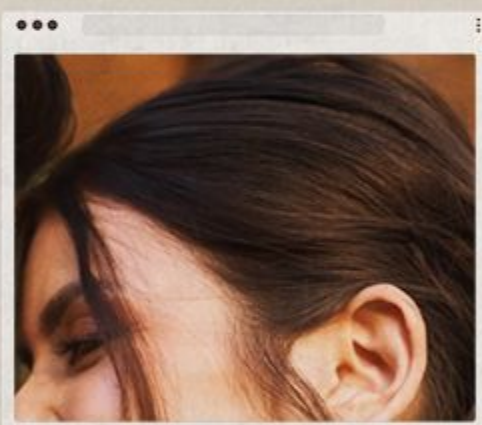

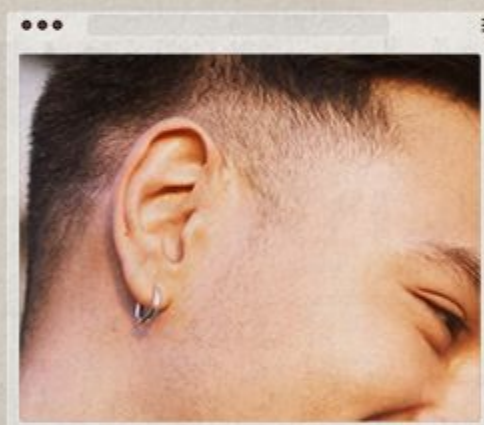

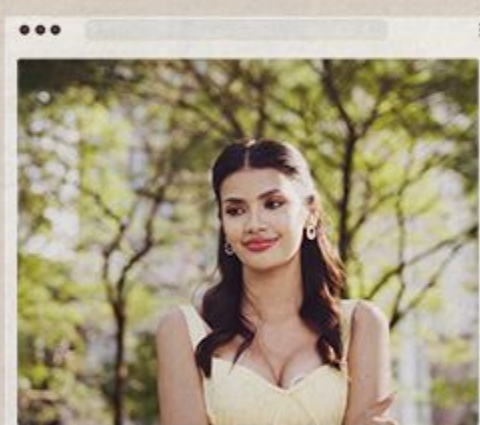

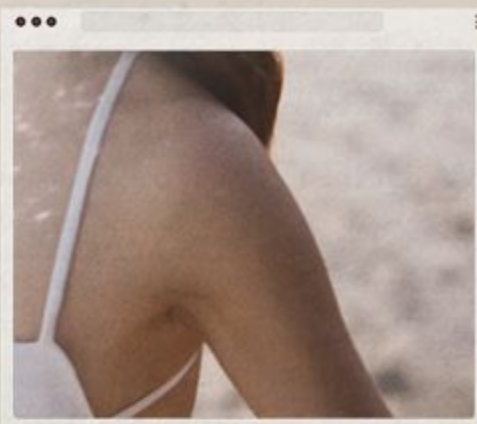

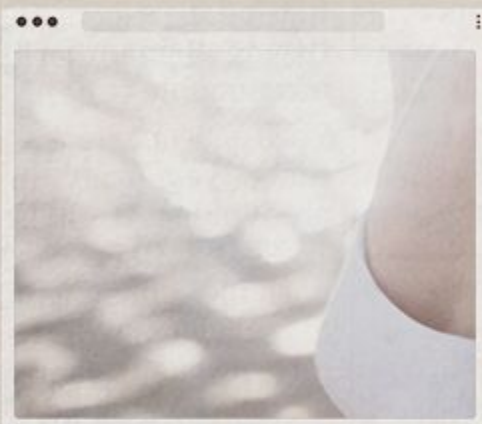

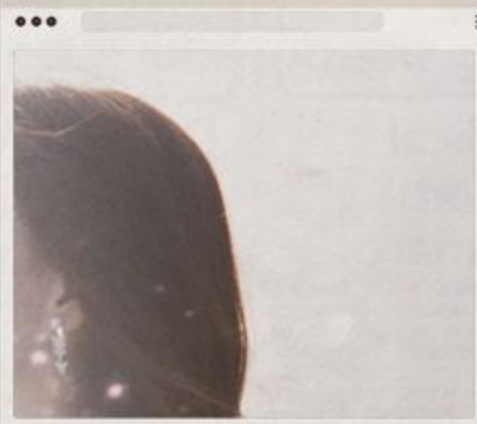

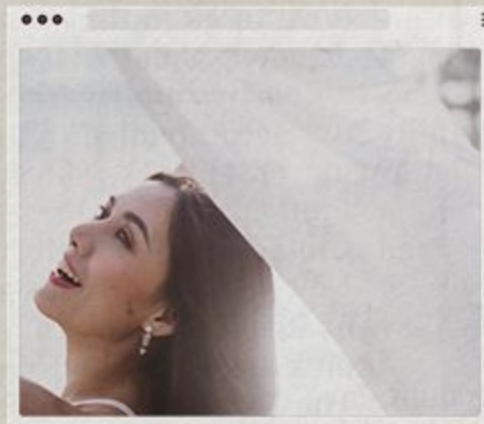

Node structures, .drp project files, and any custom LUTs built during grading remain the proprietary property of Color Monkey and are not included in standard delivery.

Clients who need the underlying project file for in-house edits, archival, or handoff to another vendor, can arrange a separate buyout fee, quoted per project.

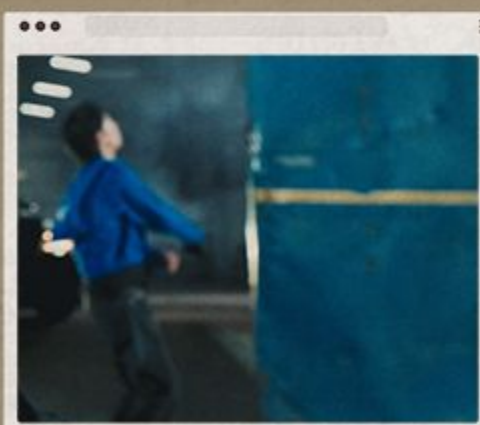

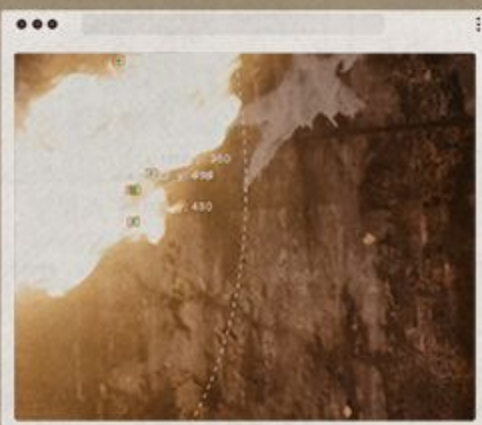

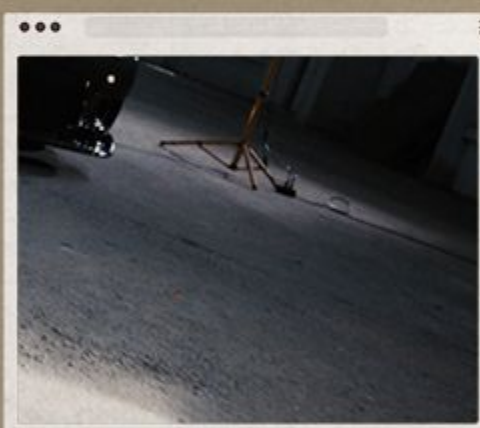

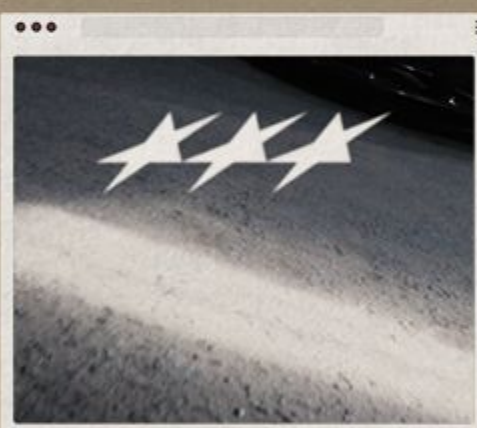

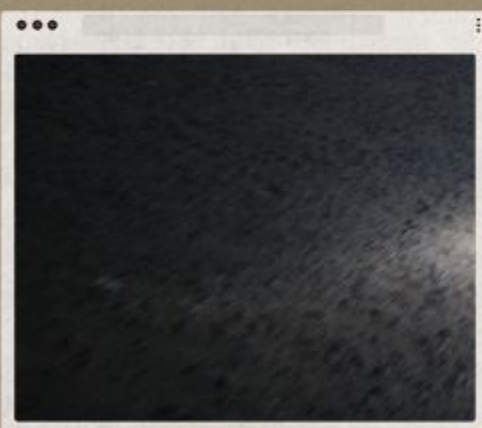

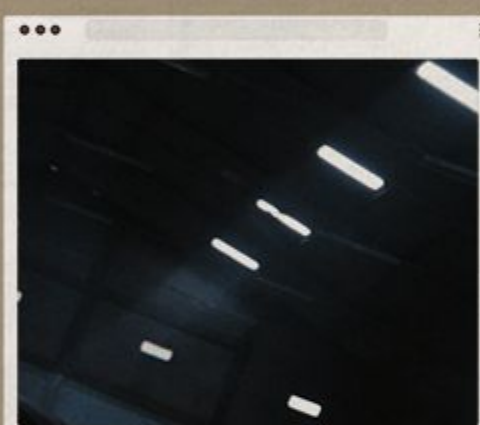

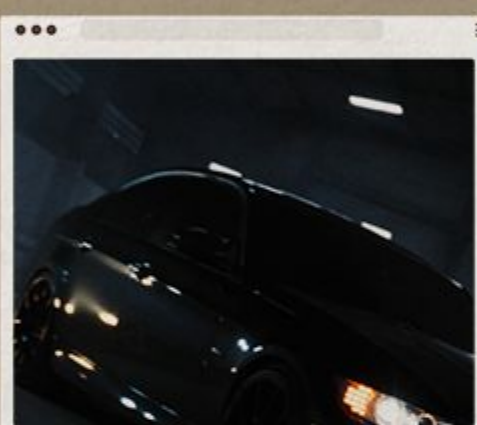

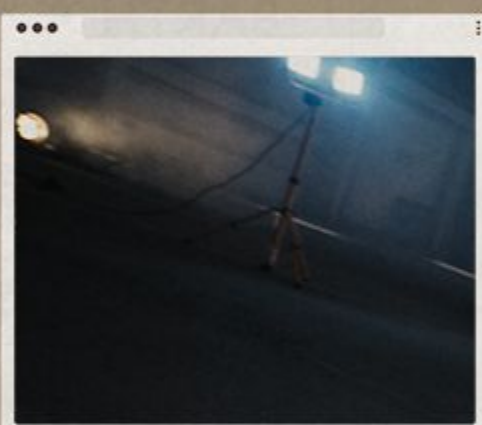

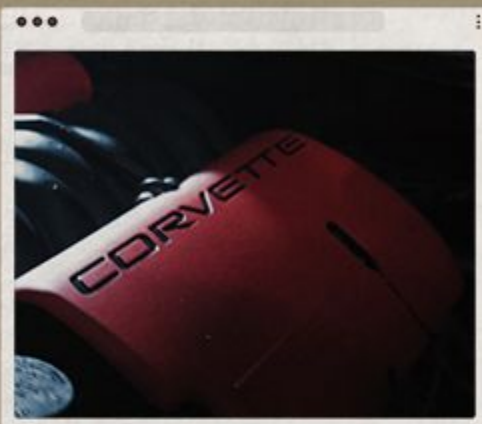

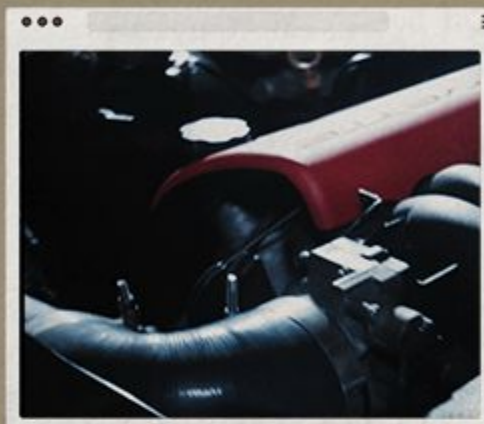

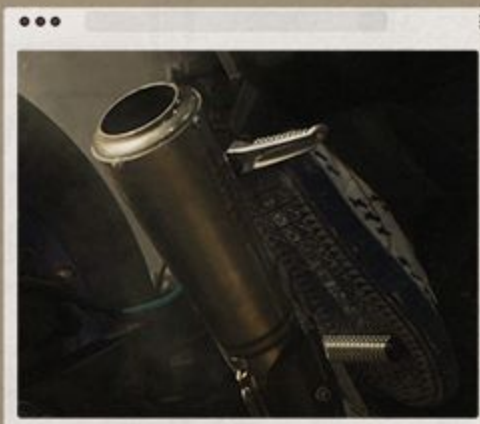

The delivered graded master (Rec.709 / web / broadcast, per package) is considered the final product and is fully licensed to the client for its intended use.
